Members of the Bethel Lions Club, their wives, and visiting Lions from Cape Elizabeth filled the Community Room at the Casco Bank last night to enjoy a delicious pot luck supper. More than thirty people helped themselves to a varied and appealing buffet, and later enjoyed an informal talk, with color slides, by Bob and Jane Grover, returned from Peace Corps assignment in India.

Among the out-of-town visitors, were District Governor Ike Johnson, Bob Johnson, George Montpelier, Bob Titcomb, and Cliff Ham, from the Cape Elizabeth Lions Club. In charge of the supper were Agnes Thurston and Anne Greenleaf. Many thanks are due to them, and to all the other ladies who contributed excellent salads, convincing speeches, and perfect pies.

FARMERS MUST APPLY FOR CLASSIFICATION OF "FARMLAND" BY APRIL 1

Failure to file an application for classification of land qualifying as "farmland" before April 1 will be considered a waiver of the right to such designation for the next property tax year, Maine Agriculture Department Commissioner Maynard Dolloff warned farmers Tuesday. Under a new statute effective this year, landowners, who believe their property qualifies as farmland or open space land, must make application to the local assessors while the State Bureau of Taxation will process claims from the unorganized territories.

Commissioner Dolloff explained in discussing whether land is farmland, considerations taken into account include the acreage, portion used in farming or agricultural operations, productivity, gross income earned, and the nature and value of the equipment used in connection with such land.

Under this statute, no person can claim an application for more than an aggregate total of 15,000 acres. Maine's estimated 9,400 farms represent 2.5 million acres.

Mrs. Alma Thurston has returned from Texas where she visited her son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thurston and attended the funeral of her granddaughter.

PLANE MISSING FIVE MONTHS FOUND OVER WEEK END ON WOODSTOCK MOUNTAIN

State and federal authorities removed four bodies Sunday from the twisted wreckage of a small airplane found by a bobcat hunter Saturday in a grove high on the southwest flank of Spruce Mountain in Woodstock.

The craft was identified through its registration number on the fuselage as the single engine Moody Mark 21 reported missing last Sept. 9 on a flight from Belfast to Montreal with four persons aboard.

Reported as occupants at the time of the disappearance last fall were the Rev. C. N. "Buddy" Benton, 45, pilot and his wife, Jean, 43, and the Rev. Lacey Taylor, 23, all of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Judy Bracewell, 22, of Montreal.

All four were members of a non-denominational Protestant evangelist group called "Body of Christ." They had just completed a revival service in Belfast and were en route to Montreal for a Youth Fellowship meeting.

Benton took off from Belfast about 4 p. m. on Sept. 9 under a cloudy sky and despite the fact, a spokesman said at the time, that other pilots at the coastal field advised him to remain on the ground.

Over Augusta a few minutes later Benton asked for and received a weather advisory from the Federal Aviation Facility there forty miles east of the crash site.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The rains have created minor problems for the Highway Department. A mixture of ice and snow clogging Chapman Brook is causing some concern at the bridge on the Northwest Bethel Road.

Bids are to be opened Thursday (today) for the construction of the sewage disposal plant, also for new interceptor and force mains.

We have been informed a recent purchaser of the old Peter Grover place, which is located on the west side of Paradise Road behind Harold Rich's house, intends to build a dwelling on the lot. He is going to move here with a young family, which means we will have to maintain the road. The town has not had that responsibility for many years. A complete reconstruction project no doubt will have to be undertaken as we understand the only use the road has had was for the winter months by woods operations. A complete appraisal of the situation will be made as soon as the snow is gone.

The Planning Board met again Wednesday night. Another meeting is scheduled for next Wednesday evening. They are trying to establish subdivision regulations which will satisfy both state law and potential developers. Copies of the revised regulations will soon be available to interested people.

S. A. D. 44 BOARD HOLDS MEETING AT ANDOVER

The board of directors of S. A. D. 44 met in regular session at the Andover Elementary School on Monday evening of this week.

With regard to the status of negotiations with the M. S. A. D. #44 Education Association, Eddie Sayer of Andover, chairman of the board, reported that a fact-finding hearing is scheduled for Friday afternoon, March 24, in the library at Telstar Regional High School. Fact finders have been assigned by Miss Marion Martin, Maine Commissioner of Labor and Industry, to assist in even- tual resolution of points at issue between the Association and board of directors, pursuant to a comprehensive agreement effective Sept. 1, 1972.

Basil E. Kinney, superintendent of schools, introduced Dr. Robert P. Ho, associate commissioner of education, Bureau of Continuing Educational Resources, Maine State Department of Education. Dr. Ho discussed "Educational Renewal," a program which among other features would make better use of available federal funds in the school system. "Renewal" would enable federal monies to be used to benefit the entire system instead of piecemeal programs which may or may not accrue rewards to the whole spectrum of education in a given area. The program is to be awarded to selected administrative units in the state. The directors gave their approval to make application to the State Department of Education for consideration as a site for the initial one year planning period. In concluding his remarks to the board, Dr. Ho introduced Mr. Hinkley, also a member of the Bureau of Continuing Educational Resources.

The board chairman announced the following appointments of board members to committees:

Transportation: George W. Chase, Andover; Edith Jeannine Fleet, Newry; Harry Swan, Jr., Greenwood; Robert Day, Woodstock; Clarence Remington, Bethel, chairman. Personnel: George W. Chase; Paul Wright, Newry; Raymond W. Seames, Greenwood; Milton Mills, Woodstock; Margaret J. Tibbetts, Bethel; William Cousins, Bethel, chairman. Buildings and Grounds: Leon Akers, Andover; Paul Wright; Bernard Brooks, Greenwood; Dan Manson, Bethel; Milton Mills, chairman. Curriculum: Margaret J. Tibbetts, Parker Allen, Woodstock; Bernard Brooks; Edith Jeannine Fleet; Leon Akers; Margaret Corbin, Bethel, chairman.

Policy: John Brown and Eddie Sayer, Andover, chairman and chairman of the board, respectively. The board granted approval to the Telstar Spanish Club's trip to Spain in April. The club is scheduled to leave Tuesday, April 11, and return to the United States on Sunday, April 23.

It was the recommendation of Mr. Kinney that the board approve a new month when 1972 June 30, 1973, fiscal period to facilitate change over to a July 1-June 30 fiscal year 12 months earlier than originally planned. The board concurred.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Mary H. Anderson as a grade two teacher.

ARTICLES OF AREA INTEREST IN APRIL "DOWN EAST"

The April issue of "Down East" magazine features two articles of interest to residents of the Bryant Pond area.

"Maine's Last Hand-Crank Telephone Company" tells the story of the Bryant Pond Telephone Company, owned since 1931 by Mr. and Mrs. Elden Hathaway. Over the 20 year period the company's customers have nearly tripled, so that they number about 350 with about one-third of the multi-party lines utilized by summer residents. Of the community, about 50% of the company's subscribers are on private lines. The article authored by Glenn Richmond, is accompanied by nine photographs.

The other article of area interest is "G.I. Whittman's Anvil Art." A native of Bryant Pond, Mr. Whittman and his wife, the former Elizabeth Noyes of Locke Mills, moved to Edgcomb in 1964, where he is one of a vanishing breed, a blacksmith, and a successful creator of welded sculpture.

BETHEL DEMOCRATS TO RECONVENE MARCH 24

YOUNG ADULTS INVITED

At the Bethel Democratic Caucus held last Thursday evening Michael J. O'Donnell and Cathy Nowell were elected chairman and secretary of the meeting respectively.

The general business of the meeting was discussed at length and after considerable debate it was voted to reconvene the meeting on Friday, March 24, 1972 at 7:30 p. m. at the Casco Bank in Bethel.

The chairman stressed that for the democratic form of government to work effectively it is essential for citizens to participate at the local level. To complain about our government and then merely vote once every two years is not citizen participation. O'Donnell said "Local involvement is a must."

A special invitation is again extended to the young people in the area to exert their newly acquired rights. The local caucus is the place to start.

All Democrats and independents are strongly urged to attend the meeting at the Bethel Casco Bank on Friday, March 24, at 7:30 p. m.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

Maine people know that the weather can change fast often. It has done so this week. Between storms I hiked the trails and climbed the hills. The scenery is the same yet ever different.

The voice of the wind was still and the sun usually bright. At times I sat on rocks where sleet and winter winds had broken limbs or tree tops in the area near by. There I watched the play of cloud-shadows across the landscape. All around were tiny tracks of woodland animals. The fox had followed trails, walls, and criss-crossed the open field on Noyes Mountain. He had even mounted, before me, a rock, and sat high up on this hill. I pictured him there, in his red coat, white tipped tail; one of nature's handiwork, as he viewed the valley below. His tracks led from there to an old woodchuck's hole. Possibly he had taken it for his den.

One time I sat minute after minute waiting for the sun to emerge from a cloud so that I might take a picture of a certain scene. Over head a crown of clouds floated forming a gray-white umbrella. Even when the rest of the sky became entirely clear, this umbrella stayed stubbornly in place. I waited. Time went by. Finally the sun dropped below the crown of clouds and I snapped my picture.

The waiting was pleasant, sitting there on a fallen tree, surrounded by the silence of that March day, breathing the pure mountain air.

As I sat motionless on the uprooted tree trunk, a red squirrel hardly a dozen feet from me discovered my presence. It stared undecidedly, its tiny front feet folded against its body. Then it scampered up a tree.

Sitting here relaxed, enjoying the peaceful calm of the hills, I was reminded of the story I read somewhere about the young man anxious to get to the city. He had spent some time on his grandfather's farm in the country. But everything was so quiet! He was one of those now growing in number, the Noise-Needers or Noise Makers. But what is a strain and distraction to some is a stimulant and comfort to others.

Their world was far from the lone trail which Ruth traveled with me. It was nice to have her again. We wound our way to the top of Patch Mountain and hit the old road not traveled except by snowmobiles in winter. As the afternoon advanced ed we wandered back to the valley where in all directions we looked away to the mountains and to the wild beauty that is the heritage and precious possession of us all.

We will not forget the tranquility a clustered woodland trail can bring to us.

This little verse taken from "Moonlight and other Poems" by Billee Shoecraft, I like.

"The winter winds that sweep across my valley
Are followed close by days that will be warm.
Teach me that hardships form and shape my being So like a tree that straightens from the storm."

QUALITY OF HANDCRAFTS IS ENCOURAGING
The Handcraft Review in Bethel proved to be exciting. The outstanding quality of the handicrafts was most encouraging, as well as the variety of items brought for review.
Handicrafters in the Rumford area will have an opportunity on Friday, March 24, to bring their articles to the Rumford Community Center from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.
A review of handicrafts in the western part of the county will be held at a later date, and this week handicrafts are being reviewed in the Rumford South Paris area.
Anyone unable to get their hand-crafts to any of the reviews may contact Mrs. Ruth DeCoteau at the Extension Office.
Plans are underway for a showing of all handicrafts before the official opening of the handcraft store in July.

buns will be served in the Methodist Church dining room following the Easter Sunrise Service Easter Morning, April 2. Everyone is invited.

MISSING PLANE FOUND

The small plane hit the 2,425-foot peak about 250 feet below the main ridge while apparently in a left diving turn with full power applied.
Because no flight plan was filed
for the trip, search efforts were delayed until friends in Montreal reported the plane overdue. Poor weather prevailing on the day of the disappearance lingered for several days
afterwards, hampering search efforts.

Men traveling to the scene last Sunday used snow machines to negotiate the approximately four feet
of soft, melting snow. In addition to State Trooper Haven Hutchinson
and State Wardens, investigators of
the Federal Aviation Administration
and the National Transportation Safety Board were on hand to try to reconstruct events leading up to the crash.

The plane's attitude at impact indicated either that Benton was making evasive action or was in a spiral dive associated with vertigo
and disorientation, a federal safety
investigator suggested.
The impact tore the seat belts
of the two rear-seat passengers completely out of the floor and disintegrated the front of the cockpit.
Investigators were hampered by
deep snow and had to dig down
more than three feet to remove the bodies. There was no evidence of fire.

Harley Stevens of South Paris,
who discovered the wreckage, said
his dogs were on a hot bobcat trail
just before noon Saturday when he snowshoed past the dense spruce grove where the wreckage lay tangled. At first glance, he said, he thought the metal was a deer blind
of some sort set up by other hunters. Then he glimpsed the large numbers painted on the fuselage.
He dug away enough snow to determine that four bodies were in
the wreckage and then went to report his findings to State Warden
Mickey Noble.

Noble subsequently contacted aviation safety officials and arranged
for transportation to the scene Sunday. Apparently area residents had been passing within a few hundred yards of the wreck all winter—a long established snow machine
trail—but had not seen anything
in the dense undergrowth.

Pilots in the Spruce Mountain area
report that they have frequently encountered turbulence around the
high ground and that navigation is further complicated below 3,000 feet
with mountains to the west blocking radio signals from Berlin.

CONSUMERS' CORNER
Quality in double knits
Shrinking, snagging, bagging.
There are some of the problems
you can expect with double knits.
Keep this in mind while you're
shopping.
What you may consider a real bargain just because it's labeled
"double knit" may turn out to be a real lemon. Judge the quality of knit before you buy. You'll have less trouble with shrinking, snagging, or bagging if you buy
a knit that has more yarn per square inch.

In other words, look at the
stretches of the knit and the uniformity of the knit loops (compare it to other knits).
If the fabric is loosely knitted,
or the yarns themselves are not
tightly twisted, the fabric may stretch, snag, or bag.

For a good quality knit, check
for tightly twisted yarns and a dense knit fabric. You can find this in both lightweight or heavyweight knits. There are the fabrics that will be good bargains.
Another precaution in knit
shopping: watch out for sizing.
It's a type of snafu put on some
knits to give them more body.
Knits wear off rapidly and the
fabric ends up a raggy, limp piece. Feel the knit before you buy. Sizing tends to take off so you can detect that it's there.

The small plane hit the 2,425-
foot peak about 250 feet below the
main ridge while apparently in a
left diving turn with full power applied.
Because no flight plan was filed
for the trip, search efforts were delayed until friends in Montreal reported the plane overdue. Poor weather prevailing on the day of the dis-
appearance lingered for several days
afterwards, hampering search efforts.

Men traveling to the scene last Sunday used snow machines to negotiate the approximately four feet
of soft, melting snow. In addition
to State Trooper Haven Hutchinson
and State Wardens, investigators of
the Federal Aviation Administration
and the National Transportation Safety Board were on hand to try to reconstruct events leading up to the crash.

The plane's attitude at impact
indicated either that Benton was
making evasive action or was in a
spiral dive associated with vertigo
and disorientation, a federal safety
investigator suggested.
The impact tore the seat belts
of the two rear-seat passengers completely out of the floor and disintegrated the front of the cockpit.
Investigators were hampered by
deep snow and had to dig down
more than three feet to remove the bodies. There was no evidence of
fire.

Harley Stevens of South Paris,
who discovered the wreckage, said
his dogs were on a hot bobcat trail
just before noon Saturday when he
snowshoed past the dense spruce
grove where the wreckage lay
tangled. At first glance, he said, he thought the metal was a deer blind
of some sort set up by other hunters. Then he glimpsed the large numbers painted on the fuselage.
He dug away enough snow to determine that four bodies were in
the wreckage and then went to report his findings to State Warden
Mickey Noble.

Noble subsequently contacted aviation safety officials and arranged
for transportation to the scene Sun-
day. Apparently area residents had
been passing within a few hundred yards of the wreck all winter—a
long established snow machine
trail—but had not seen anything
in the dense undergrowth.

Pilots in the Spruce Mountain area
report that they have frequently encountered turbulence around the
high ground and that navigation is
further complicated below 3,000 feet
with mountains to the west blocking
radio signals from Berlin.

Quality in double knits
Shrinking, snagging, bagging.
There are some of the problems
you can expect with double knits.
Keep this in mind while you're
shopping.
What you may consider a real
bargain just because it's labeled
"double knit" may turn out to be
a real lemon. Judge the quality of knit before you buy. You'll
have less trouble with shrinking,
snagging, or bagging if you buy
a knit that has more yarn per
square inch.

In other words, look at the
stretches of the knit and the uniformity of the knit loops (compare it to other knits).
If the fabric is loosely knitted,
or the yarns themselves are not
tightly twisted, the fabric may
stretch, snag, or bag.

For a good quality knit, check
for tightly twisted yarns and a dense knit fabric. You can find
this in both lightweight or heavyweight knits. There are the
fabrics that will be good bargains.
Another precaution in knit
shopping: watch out for sizing.
It's a type of snafu put on some
knits to give them more body.
Knits wear off rapidly and the
fabric ends up a raggy, limp

SCHOOL DIRECTORS MEET

University. She has continued studies at the University of Maine (C. E. D.) and Gorham State College, and enrolled in a master's program as of June 1970. From March 1, 1971, until the end of the school year she taught special education at Crescent Park School.

Also approved were the transfer request of Miss Ellen Haverinen from grade one, Locke Mills, to grade one, Woodstock; and the request of Peter Brown to be transferred from Junior High English at Telstar to Junior High social studies.

These transfers are effective with the start of the 1972-73 school year. It was the decision of the directors that the Extension Service be considered a service organization with regard to use of school property; hence no charge for their use of school facilities for a function where there is no admission fee, as per board policy.

Board members not present at the Monday meeting were: Clarence Remington, Bethel; Milton Mills, Woodstock.

The next regular session of the board is scheduled to be held at Telstar Regional High School at 7:30, Monday evening, April 3.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from our midst our beloved sister, Bernice Noyes, and in view of the loss that we have sustained in our grange and community;

Be it resolved, that it is a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting her passing, we mourn for one who was a faithful, cheerful, and diligent friend and worker and one that will be greatly missed by all in the community.

Therefore, be it further resolved that we spread a copy of these resolutions on our records; have a copy printed in the Bethel Citizen; and a copy sent to her family.

Alber River Grange #145 extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

EARTH SCIENCE STUDENTS

HEAR BATES PROFESSOR—On a recent visit to the Bates College Planetarium Teistar Earth Science students were privileged to hear Dr. Donald Reese discuss and explain the motions of the heavenly bodies through the medium of its giant projection device shown here.

Dr. Reese discussed and demonstrated the meaning of the spring and fall equinoxes, summer and winter solstices, constellations, super giant stars, dwarf stars, and general motions of the heavens.

Students were also thoroughly enchanted with their visit to the recently renovated Bates College bookstore and coffee shop where, as one student put, "People took time to be nice to you".

Joe Bernier janked his car and purchased one from Johnny Wright of Newry.

The Bob Charrons and guests spent a few days at their home here. Fred and Bea Judkins went to East Sumner Sunday. Kathy went with them to visit Tommy Abbott.

The ban is on the roads in New Hampshire and most of the logging trucks have gone into hibernation.

Bea Judkins opened her kindergarten with Candy Lavalley and Ruth Keck as pupils.

The Extension meeting was held Wednesday at the home of Virginia Williamson with most of the Upton members present in spite of the storm. Virginia had a large variety

We also were treated to a view of the deer which came out twice during the day. It all added up to a very relaxing and pleasant day.

UPTON

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Town meeting opened with a bang when a fellow sitting near the stove knocked over a large block of firewood. 23 voters took care of the business in less than three hours while about ten visitors listened or dozed. The issues of the day besides election of officials were: the burial grounds, whether and who should pay for same; whether the town should buy a school bus and the Library which last year had some repair and removal of a small attached building housing a wood shed on one side and a seat and Sears Roebuck catalog in the other half and now being used as a tool shed. It was apparent that some will feel safer if the books and election booth are removed to the schoolhouse where necessary comforts can be repaired and will be more stable.

ROUND MOUNTAIN GRANGES

Monday night, March 20, was Past Masters night and supper was served to 41 people, including 16 Past Masters and nine non-members.

The Past Masters were members of five Granges and really had an opportunity to demonstrate their proficiency.

First, the Charter was draped for Sister Lilla Stearns a long time Grange member. She is sadly missed by family and friends.

Next, Sister Mildred Tetreault was elected and installed as Chaplain to replace Sister Jessamine Gould, who became ill shortly after being elected and had never been installed.

Then the names of two candidates for membership were reported approved by the Investigating Committee. Balloting took place and was favorable.

Public suppers, which were such a great success the past two summers, will begin May 27, to be held every other Saturday thereafter during the summer.

The interesting speakers, invited by Sister Ivy Philbrook, were James Rowe and Mrs. Cook, from the office of Economic Opportunity (under Health, Education and Welfare).

Mr. Rowe spoke on Project Independence, organized to help people over 45. Project Independence has two mini-buses to provide transportation to such things as Senior Citizens meetings, shopping centers, churches, etc. Toll free telephone, 800-442-6323, Norway-Paris area, dial 743-2535.

Mrs. Cook outlined the purpose of the Buying Club, which allows people of limited income to purchase food and other necessities at a discount. A question and answer period evoked plenty of interest in both projects.
